If you take option 2 from the main menu you'll see the demos of products that are for sale. IT departments are much more likely to check out demos if there's no installation, registration or expiration dates involved so these products are protected a different way.

Various methods have been used to make sure no one can just 'borrow' a copy of a demo for their company and use it in production. These methods take place behind the scenes so there's no additional burden placed on the people who want to look into the demos.

Here's an example of the type of contact information that can be entered into a vendor's record. (Only the vendors should be changing address information. An upcoming patch will make the records display-only for non-vendors.)
